Deadline Extension for Call for Candidates for the position of the 18th President of National Cheng Kung University

“Unite around One Torch Stand Firm through Time as One.” Ninety-one years have gone by since the founding of National Cheng Kung University. It has taken a long journey of nearly a hundred years and has accentuated starlight of our time which shines through generations of talents cultivated. We have been jointly working on the common fate of the globe and pursuing the common good of the world. President Huey-Jen Jenny Su has led the University in achieving its excellence through inheriting the proud tradition and pursuing innovations. Her terms of eight years are to be completed on January 31st, 2023. This Committee is hereby calling for candidates for the position of the new President of National Cheng Kung University. We sincerely wish with all our hearts that excellent candidates can be recommended to us from all communities, in the hope of finding the most suitable new President to shoulder the responsibilities and continue to be the navigator for the future generations.

According to the Article 8 of the National Cheng Kung University Regulations Governing Presidential Election, the methods for nominating presidential candidates are as follows:

1. Nomination by Committee members.
2. Nomination by University faculty members who hold the position of a full-time lecturer (or higher). Each individual can nominate a maximum of three individuals from the University or outside the University.
3. Nomination by professors, associate professors, research fellows, or associate research fellows of domestic and international academic institutions.
4. Nomination by academic groups outside the University.
5. Nomination by alumni associations of the University.
